Not super sporty, but solid, modern and comfortable sailing yacht. With its modern line, this Contest 33 is a seaworthy sailor that is suitable for all waters. Not only the sailing behavior is comfortable, the interior is also very pleasant to current standards, with a standing height of 1.85. The layout offers enough space and comfort to call it a family yacht. The design is by the well-known constructors Dick Zaal and Uus van Essen who at the time thought through this ship very solidly in everything, with the aim of creating a "performance cruiser". The hull is fully fiberglass and thick, as can be expected with a ship from this period. Designed as a cruiser for large waters and well maintained, this is a yacht for wonderful journeys and to celebrate holidays and weekends. The current owner has maintained her well and that makes it a robust seaworthy yacht for a pleasant price.
